Welcome to a New Year!

This year ACEER will continue to offer programs that are true to our mission and that promote conservation of the Peruvian Amazon by fostering awareness, understanding, action, and transformation. We will continue to offer environmental education programs and unique field experiences through our workshops and education efforts in Peruvian communities.

International Sustainability Fellows Selected!

The ACEER Foundation with the West Chester University Sustainability Advisory Council, has selected five Sustainability Fellowships for the 2010-2011 academic year.

Along with Dr. Paul Morgan, WCU professor in charge of the Sustainability Fellows Program, and Marguerite Gould, ACEER's Director of Operations, these individuals have begun to develop an international green schools initiative that links their schools with partner schools in the Amazon basin of Peru.

The partner schools in Peru include San Isidro School and Dos de Mayo School in Puerto Maldonado and Javier Heraud School in Laberinto.

The projects between the partner schools are being developed and will focus on school gardens, recycling, watershed stewardship and green design and technology. As this year progresses, we will have more updates regarding the schools and programs.
