Pandaneo Camping Scholarship

About

Pandaneo is a blog that aims to give advice and tips on how you will be able to have the ultimate camping experience. Whether you are with family, friends, or by yourself, our tips and other posts will be able to help you put your camping problems at ease.

We have created a scholarship designed for those who love camping and those related to the topic, with students who are passionate with camping being granted a $1000 award to help fund their studies.

Eligibility

It is for all students from any college, university, or high school (Preferably seniors). To submit your 500-1000 word article, simply email it to us at scholarships@pandaneo.com in a Word (.doc) file, adding the URL of your blog or website (optional). Also include the following information:

- Personal Details (Full name, phone, home address)
- School name and address
- Valid documents proving you are a student

Finally, once you have submitted your article, you agree that you are allowing us to use it for marketing or promotional purposes.

How To Enter

To participate in the scholarship program is fairly easy. What you will need to do is to research and create a 500-1000 words paper on the topic: Benefits of Camping For Youth.

What we want you to focus on are the following points:

1. Why is camping important for the youth?
2. How will you be able to encourage the youth to go camping?
3. How can we use your paper for our website and articles?

Award Amount

$1000

Deadline

We run our scholarship every year, with the final date of submission being by December 31. The winner will be chosen by January 15 (2017).
