

Setting Out for the Sublime: Voice, Verse & Craft

The WCU poetry conference stands out among other writers' conferences both for its unique focus on the traditional craft of poetry and for the way it combines a writers' conference with a scholarly conference. Writers, critics, and students mix together in a notably friendly, informal, and egalitarian atmosphere.

CRITICAL SEMINAR

In addition to offering our Keynote Feature, Mr. Yezzi will lead a special 3-day Critical Seminar on American Master Anthony Hecht! Enrollment in the Anthony Hecht critical seminar will involve an additional fee of $119 and enrollees will have the opportunity to present briefly their own scholarship.

DAVID YEZZI

David Yezzi's latest books of poetry are Birds of the Air and Black Sea. His verse play Schnauzer was recently published by Exot Books. A former director of the Unterberg Poetry Center of the 92nd Street Y in New York, he is chair of the Writing Seminars at Johns Hopkins and editor of the The Hopkins Review. He is currently at work on the biography of Anthony Hecht.

Participation in one workshop included with all registrations.
