The summer Youth Programs are sponsored by the PA Writing & Literature Project (PAWLP), West Chester University (WCU), select area school districts, and several private locations. Classes are small, averaging 13 - 15 students. Students are grouped by age and grade level, and our teachers are prepared to teach multi-age classes. All students contribute self-selected writing to a literary anthology.

The goals of the program are:

✔️ to inspire students to love writing and reading
✔️ to introduce students to the tools they need to become better writers
✔️ to encourage students to collect writing ideas in their notebooks
✔️ to stretch students’ capabilities in writing and reading
✔️ to help students learn to read like writers
✔️ to help students see themselves as writers with individual voices, unique in their manner of expression

SAT PREP,

The College Board said that 1.6 million kids take the SAT each year, yet 57% of them lacked the skills to succeed in college. The redesigned test was created to measure the abilities successful college students possess. The SAT now has a reading, language and writing, math, and an optional essay test. This course will cover basic standardized test taking skills, vocabulary, and instruction with practice and feedback on the reading, language/writing and essay portions of the test. This class is designed for students who will be juniors or seniors in the fall.
