Continuity of Instruction Plan

The Office of Distance Education and Information Services & Technology hope your classes are running smoothly. Continue to reach out to us for assistance and support as needed. Review the weekly update for resources, contact information, and upcoming training offerings to help with this transition. Thank you for your hard work and resiliency in transitioning your classes to alternate modalities.

Summer Instructional Support

Faculty members who are teaching during the summer sessions are encouraged to contact their instructional designer for instructional support. If you don’t have an instructional designer, reach out to distanceed@wcupa.edu. We can provide pedagogy and technology recommendations and training, advise on how to effectively deliver your content using D2L, and provide guidance on meeting accessibility standards.

Note: Summer course shells are not yet available within D2L. Feel free to request a development shell to begin preparing your course.

Online Faculty Development Program (OFD)

The Office of Distance Education has added two more offerings of our Online Faculty Development Program (OFD) to support summer course prep. It is a 2-week, asynchronous program that introduces faculty to best practices for online and blended teaching. Successful completion of the program earn faculty the CAPC Distance Education Statement. Facilitated by an instructional designer and a seasoned WCU online faculty member, participants engage with ten modules that cover topics such as Creating Measurable Learning Objectives, Assessing Your Students and Providing Meaningful Feedback, Developing Meaningful Learning Activities, Connecting With Your Students, Making Learning Accessible for All Students, and Applying Copyright and Fair Use Standards.

Upcoming OFD Dates:
Summer Prep 2: May 11 - May 22, 2020
Summer 1: June 1 - June 12, 2020
Summer 2: August 3 - August 14, 2020

Virtual Advising

Students may create strong bonds with you as teachers and researchers, but only in advising will you be able to form and build relationships that last through a student’s full career at West Chester. The Campus Advising Committee recently created this virtual advising infographic to ensure a successful WCU advising experience. For more information regarding advising, visit the Academic Advising page of the WCU website.

Stress Awareness Month

During these challenging times, it is especially important to reduce stress. Professor Mitch Goldfarb is offering free, online Tai Chi Flow classes every Monday at 11am. This is a wonderful opportunity to relax, build energy, and safely connect with other mindful people. Student Support Information

A sudden shift from face-to-face instruction to online instruction may be jarring for students. It is important to provide them with technical support and guidance during the transition. Students also have access to the Helpdesk and to Distance Education Support. In addition, consider asking students to complete tutorials for digital tools you are using on the Navigating Digital Learning D2L site. This will ensure that students have a basic competency.
