

IS&T On The Move!

Deke Kassabian, IS&T

As many of you know, the Information Services and Technology Division has long kept offices and walk-in help facilities in multiple campus locations. This includes Allegheny Hall, Brandywine Hall, the Demonstration and Application

Center on Matlack Street, and Anderson Hall. Near the center of North Campus, Anderson Hall has been the home of many of our staff offices, but also is the location of the Faculty and Staff Help Desk, D2L services, Faculty and Staff Training (FAST), Digital Corner, and the Open Computing Labs. As a result, Anderson is a very important location for the members of the campus community.

In order to make way for a major renovation of Anderson Hall in 2018, IS&T staff and offices in Anderson Hall have moved to three nearby buildings - Peoples, Ehinger, and Ruby Jones. In the final days of 2017, we are working hard to move and to get up and operational in our new spaces, in order to be ready to serve the campus community fully when we all return in early 2018.

Please stay tuned, and look for more information from us early next year detailing ways to reach us and the locations of IS&T service offices. Until then, we in the Information Services and Technology Division wish all at WCU a safe and happy holiday season and winter break.

See you all in 2018!
