James

Hometown: Phoenixville, PA
Major: Communication Studies
Class: 2018

“Don’t create barriers for yourself. Get involved in everything and anything you can.”

James was all set to attend a private college in Connecticut...until he got his first tuition bill. Although he received financial aid and a scholarship, he knew that making tuition work would be difficult. A friend suggested WCU and the rest is history. A Communication Studies major with concentrations in mass media and sportscasting, James isn’t shy about building his skills in front of the camera. James has his own sports show on local cable, is a cohost and field reporter for RamCenter covering all of WCU’s sporting events, and even pitched an idea for a segment to focus on athletes dealing with diversity off the field. His passion for sportscasting drives him, and James hopes to change the culture of communications as he joins the field. From the close knit Communications community to the great people he has met along his journey, James could not imagine himself anywhere else.

Mike

Hometown: Montrose, PA
Major: Dual degree in Music Education and Music Theory Composition for Voice; minor in Theatre Arts
Class: 2018

“Make friends with upper classmen, they’re great resources. And remember that professors are here to help—don’t underestimate what they can do for you.”

As a high school senior, Mike was excited to move to a new town and to be on his own for the first time. He scheduled his tour and when he got to campus, he just knew. While Mike chose to attend WCU because of the beautiful campus, it’s everything else that kept him here. Mike found his perfect fit as a sophomore when he auditioned for music and was accepted into the Music Education program. Since then, Mike has become very involved on campus. He’s the public relations officer for the High Street Harmonix (the University’s all-male a capella competition group), a School of Music Mentor and Ambassador, a performer in Theatre Department productions and the Mastersingers ensemble, has a work study position, is active in campus ministry, and he performs external service for his church. Mike is making the most of his time at WCU!

Nicole

Hometown: Nazareth, PA
Major: Dual degree in Business Management and Marketing; minor in Economics
Class: 2019

“There’s something about this University that makes students want to achieve their fullest potential. I love meeting people who have similar goals and knowing that we can help each other become leaders, grow as people, and make a difference in the world when we graduate.”

From the time Nicole started her college search she knew she wanted to start her own business. That realization led her to the College of Business and Public Management at WCU where she is majoring in Business Management and Marketing with a minor in Economics. The current junior couldn’t be happier about her choice, and says she eats, sleeps, and breathes West Chester. That’s obvious through Nicole’s involvement on campus which includes being the secretary for the Student Government Association; an undergraduate research assistant; a student worker in the Cottrell Entrepreneurial Leadership Center; a member of Sigma Iota Epsilon, the management honor fraternity; and a member of the economics and finance society. Nicole once heard that WCU produces leaders; today she believes it.

Kelly

Hometown: Easthampton Township, NJ
Major: Early Grades & Special Education; minor in Deaf Studies
Class: 2019

“I love all of my professors and the support they give me. I’m not just a student in a classroom; each professor knows my name and wants to get to know me.”

Kelly was in her freshman year at a different college when she decided she wanted a fresh start. She was so confident in the fit that she only looked at WCU. Flash forward and Kelly is involved in just about everything on campus. She’s a sister of Alpha Delta Pi, is on the Council for Exceptional Children, and serves as a transfer ambassador. Kelly also regularly attends events through the Student Activities Council, including Flyers games and a campus-wide favorite, Banana Day. Kelly’s favorite part about WCU? Her major! Within her first two education classes at WCU, she knew she made the right choices—in major and in transferring. Kelly always dreamed of being a teacher when she was a little girl. Today, she’s making her dream a reality right here at WCU.

Lauren

Hometown: Ewing, NJ
Major: Athletic Training
Class: 2017

>“Knowing that the Sports Medicine faculty truly cared about my education and success was a constant reminder that I chose the right school and the right career.”

Lauren was always passionate about helping others and finding ways to improve their lives. When it came time to decide on a major, she wanted to pair that passion with her love of athletics. The Athletic Training program at WCU was a perfect fit! Lauren worked as a student athletic trainer, including clinical rotations around the region, which taught her to be a confident, competent, healthcare professional. Lauren was also involved outside the classroom with organizations like the WCU chapter of Bringing Hope Home, WCU’s Athletic Training Club, WCU’s Catholic Newman Center, and as a peer tutor. Today, Lauren is pursuing her Master of Kinesiology degree with a concentration in Sport and Recreation Leadership at James Madison University. Lauren is pursuing her passion thanks to WCU.

Denston

Hometown: Trevose, PA
Major: Cell and Molecular Biology; minor in Psychology
Class: 2017

“I saw West Chester as a fresh start and put my all into academics. It doesn’t matter where you’re starting—when you come here, you can do what you want to do.”

Although Denston began his WCU career on a reduced course load, he decided that he was going to medical school and wouldn’t let anything get in his way. Denston co-founded Minorities in Medicine on campus, spent a summer in the Jefferson Step-Up Program in Philadelphia, another summer doing research in the neuro-biology lab at Boston University, volunteered as a medical transporter at Chester County Hospital, performed research with WCU psychology faculty, and recently received the 2017 Outstanding Student Award for the College of the Sciences and Mathematics. Think Denston’s resume is impressive? So did Harvard University, the University of Pennsylvania, and Columbia University, among others, who each offered Denston admission into their medical schools. This fall, Denston will be attending Harvard University School of Medicine with all expenses paid.
At West Chester University, our best and brightest students are invited to apply to the Honors College. The Honors College prepares students to become a force for positive change both on campus and in the broader community. Students are encouraged to be active, contributing members of society and are prepared to become leaders for the 21st century.

Highlights include:
- Community service opportunities
- Specialized general education courses built around community investment and leadership development
- Living Learning Community located in Allegheny Hall, guaranteed for all four years
- Additional faculty advisors
- Membership in the Honors Student Association
- Senior project linked to community-based internship

Additional opportunities open exclusively to Honors College students:
- Service learning and research trip to South Africa
- Affiliation with National Collegiate Honors Council
- Participation in PASSHE summer honors programs
- Executive board and committee chairperson positions
- Qualification for honors scholarship awards and additional special recognition

Many of our alumni go on to pursue graduate and professional studies at distinguished institutions, including: Yale University, Johns Hopkins University, Princeton University, University of Rochester, and the University of Pennsylvania.

The Greg and Sandra Weisenstein Veterans Center at WCU is dedicated to current and former members of the nation’s Armed Forces as well as their families and friends. The Center has created a culture of understanding, acceptance, and success for all military-affiliated students. At the Center, you’ll find:
- Standing Strong Support Group
- Veterans Support Group
- Soldiers to Scholars
- Troops to Teachers
- New kitchen
- Computer room
- Lounge with tv, cable, video games, & dvds

WCU is also dedicated to recruiting and retaining talented young men and women for ROTC programs. Through partnerships with St. Joseph’s University and Widener University, WCU is proud to offer both Army and Air Force ROTC training.

The Office of Services for Students with Disabilities (OSSD) helps students with physical, psychological, and learning disabilities transition to college life.

The Learning Assistance and Resource Center (LARC) provides academic support services to help students become independent, active learners.

The Academic Development Program (ADP) is a special five-week summer program to develop academic skills in reading, writing, and mathematics.

Pre-Major Academic Advising (PMAA) will help you explore majors and make sure you’re on the path to success through course selection and grade requirements.

The Early Alert Program (EAP) provides early intervention for students identified as needing additional academic and social support.

Counseling and Psychological Services offers individual problem-solving sessions, group therapy, individual vocational sessions, psychiatric services, consultations, drug and alcohol counseling and awareness training, and even crisis intervention.

Additional Resources:

Therapy dogs are a mainstay on campus during exams. (They even have their own Twitter feed!)

The Center for Contemplative Studies offers courses in yoga, mindfulness meditation, and T’ai Chi Ch’uan to keep you grounded and stress-free.

Student Health Services provides information about nutrition, wellness, and substance abuse.

The mentoring program through the Office of Multicultural Affairs will introduce you to positive role models, get you settled, and help teach you the ropes.
At West Chester University, what you do outside the classroom is just as important as what you do in the classroom, and we’ve got hundreds of ways to keep you busy. From Sykes After Dark and athletic events to an impressive speaker series and hundreds of clubs and organizations, the only question is: how will you choose?

No one ever said they were involved in too many clubs or had too many friends on campus.
Whether you’re interested in trying something new or sticking to tried and true, with more than 280 clubs and orgs, there’s something for everyone.

Emelie

Hometown: Stockholm, Sweden
Major: Marketing
Class: 2019

“Being a student athlete has given me so much—including my friends who have become like my second family here. Now, when I compete in the classroom and in the pool, I feel like I’m representing the whole school and not just myself.”

When Emelie began her college search she knew she wanted two things: to continue her swimming career and to attend a university with a business school. WCU checked both of those boxes, and Emelie dove right in, balancing swimming and academics like a pro. Even this far from home, Emelie feels supported at WCU, especially through the Athletics Academic Mentoring Program, which gives athletes a peer mentor to talk to about sports, school, or anything else without being a coach, teammate, or faculty member. Today, Emelie is a marketing major who spends time on her studies but still manages to have fun and get involved on campus. Although she’s far from home, Emelie found a whole new family at WCU.

IN 2016-2017 WCU HAD:

1 National NCAA Championship team
3 PSAC Regular-Season Champions
3 PSAC Tournament Champions
9 teams + 16 individual athletes who made NCAA Appearances
5 Coach of the Year Awards
1 individual national champion in two events
7 Player of the Year Awards
22 All-American Selections
4 Rookie of the Year Awards
With 24 varsity sports, WCU is home to one of the largest NCAA Division II athletics programs in the country, and we have the facilities, fans, and championships to prove it.

This spring WCU’s baseball team won its 2nd NCAA DII National Championship in six years.

Not sure about being a varsity athlete? WCU has 20 club sports and intramural teams. So, whether you’re in it for the trophy or just the t-shirt, WCU has something for you.
If you’re a freshman, you’ll most likely be housed on North Campus; here’s a quick breakdown of the differences between the housing options:

University-owned housing:
- Traditional dormitory style
- Double occupancy rooms
- Shared bathrooms
- Computer room
- Television lounge
- Game room
- Laundry room
- Kitchenette per building

University-affiliated housing (USH):
- Suite style rooms accommodate 2 to 6 students
- En suite bathrooms
- Computer room
- Separate social and study lounges
- Theatre/Media room
- Fitness room/yoga space
- Laundry room
- Central heat/air conditioning
- Full kitchen per building

Which one is right for you? You’ll have to tour them all!

After your freshman year, you have even more options, including the College Arms Apartments, South Campus Apartments, the Village and East Village Apartments, or moving off campus into the West Chester Borough community.

At WCU campus life also means living (and dining) on campus. We like to say our students live the suite life.

In fact, 93% of freshmen live on campus in rooms that range from traditional doubles to suites. WCU has university-owned housing as well as affiliated housing options. Each residence hall has its own community feel and amenities which differ by location.
Whether you eat to live or live to eat, you’ll find something to love at WCU. Between the dining hall and the diner, the food trucks and the food court, we’ve got you covered.

On campus dining options include:

- Lawrence all-you-care-to-eat dining hall
- Einstein Brothers Bagels
- Fresh Market Smoothies
- Food trucks on Church Street (everything from coffee and pretzels to Greek and Mexican)
- Java City
- Larry’s Market
- P.O.D. (Provisions on Demand) In: Main Hall, South Campus, Sturzebecker
- Ram’s Head Food Court
  - Bene Pizza
  - Chik-fil-A
  - Grille Works
  - Home Zone
  - Lindsay’s Market
  - Sandwich Shack
- The Diner
- Starbucks

Class: 2017

“It’s important to open yourself up to things and experiences you weren’t sure about before; that is what I did by studying abroad.”

The best advice Julie can give you as a WCU student? Say yes! An education major, Julie wasn’t sure she’d be able to fit study abroad into her curriculum, but just a few meetings, some paperwork, and a passport later, Julie was on her way to Prague in the Czech Republic. Why Prague? Julie thought the Czech Republic would have a different feel to it than some of the more traditional study abroad locations. It turns out—she was right! And Prague was the perfect starting point for all of the adventures and experiences that Julie said yes to. She made new friends and memories every weekend as she traveled—visiting Switzerland, Amsterdam, Dublin, Barcelona, Munich, and Italy’s Amalfi Coast. Julie opened herself up to new experiences and had the time of her life.

West Chester University has been a part of the fabric of Pennsylvania since the college's founding in 1871. From service-learning courses to student-faculty research, our students, faculty, and staff have been making a difference in the community every day for more than 140 years.
Then there’s commitment to the wider community.

Since 2010, WCU has invested in projects that are truly making an environmental impact, including:

- Heating and cooling 50% of campus buildings with geothermal energy
- Installing rain gardens and catch basins to improve water quality and reduce storm water runoff
- Creating green roofs on the Merion Science Center and Green Library to reduce water runoff and cooling costs
- Planting a demonstration garden to attract natural pollinators to our campus
- Dedicating even more space to the Robert B. Gordon natural area, now a 135-acre nature preserve
- Opening the South Campus community garden to encourage gardening, learning where and how food grows, and even composting and bee-keeping techniques
- WCU is also a Level II ArbNet certified Arboretum and has been recognized by Tree Campus USA for the last several years

In 2016-17 alone WCU students performed more than 780,000 hours of community service through 130 student organizations and ran 8 alternative spring break trips to international destinations like Peru, Kenya, and Honduras.

7,663 students participated in 119 service learning courses and raised nearly $250,000 for community organizations.
Location, Location, Location

If you haven’t been on a tour yet, it’s hard to even begin to describe West Chester’s location. There’s the campus itself which is beautiful, with a grassy academic quad, Adirondack chairs under the trees, and buildings that date from the turn of the last century.

Then there’s everything else:

West Chester Borough: The Borough has a fantastic downtown with great shops, restaurants, bakeries, and salons just a ten-minute walk from the heart of campus. It’s a true college town, and when the University is in session, our students double the population here.

Philadelphia: Just over 30 minutes from campus, Philadelphia is home to tons of restaurants, museums and cultural sites, concerts, and more. And, with more than 450,000 college students in the Philly metro area, there’s always someone to meet, something to do, and somewhere to go.

New York City & Washington, D.C.: West Chester University is just a two-hour ride from two of the most influential cities in the country, if not the world. Aside from the obvious landmarks in both cities, you’ll also have access to more internship opportunities, fun, and experiences than you could ever imagine!
When your last exam is finished, your passport is stamped, and your diploma is in hand, you should know that you’re not alone. With more than 90,000 alumni around the world, you’ll find the WCU connection EVERYWHERE!

Our graduates go on to study and work at fantastic institutions and accomplish great things.

Sara

Hometown: Stewartstown, PA
Major: Accounting
Class: 2018

“The more people you talk to, the more opportunities become available to you. Don’t be shy!”

Sara believes in the power of personal relationships and networking. In fact, utilizing her personal network landed her a summer internship at BHS Corrugated headquarters in Weiherhammer, Germany. The Accounting major gained experience in different departments throughout the company including sales, marketing, internal auditing and finally, accounting. It wasn’t strictly business while Sara was in Germany—she traveled to Italy, the Czech Republic, Austria, and Brussels—a different location for every weekend. Back on campus, Sara is the vice president of Beta Alpha Psi, the accounting honor society and an RA on campus in Schmidt Hall. She also volunteers with VITA, which is volunteer income tax assistance for low-income and disabled individuals, and at the Chester County SPCA. She plans to complete her five year program in just four years, including a semester off for an internship. Sara is making the most of her opportunities at WCU.

FINANCIAL AID

Your college education is one of the largest investments you’ll make in your lifetime.

At WCU, we’re here to make your dreams a reality. This year, the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) is using prior, prior year tax data.

Prior-Prior Year (PPY) refers to a policy enabling students and families to file the FAFSA using tax information from two years ago. The West Chester University priority filing date is February 15.
