The Performance Institute where Musical Excellence is Nurtured

ENSEMBLES
Students will perform in a large ensemble and a small ensemble. Seating auditions will be held following registration on the first day of the Institute. The Institute culminates with finale concerts by the following ensembles:

HONORS TRACK
An honors track is available for advanced students. Honors track students will be placed in advanced chamber ensembles (e.g. woodwind trio, brass quintet, string quartet), or they will be guaranteed a performance on the evening solo recital. Honors track applicants must submit an unlisted YouTube recording of two contrasting etudes or solo works on their primary instrument. The audition video, along with the student’s online application and registration fee, must be submitted by May 20th. Please email your unlisted YouTube video link to summersmusiccamps@wcupa.edu on or before May 20th.

SOLO RECITAL
Students who are ready to perform a prepared solo are encouraged to audition for the solo recital. A professional accompanist will be provided for the audition and the evening recital.

PRIVATE LESSONS
Students receive two 30-minute private lessons on their primary instrument or voice. Additionally, all students will participate in a studio masterclass with their private teacher.

MUSIC THEORY AND EAR TRAINING
Students will participate in a daily music theory and ear training class.

Students should select “beginning theory” or “advanced theory” on the application.

AUDITION/COLLEGE PREPARATION
Students will participate in classes focusing on audition preparation, practice habits, tips for successful auditions, résumé writing, and choosing a college.

FACULTY
Our faculty consists primarily of WCU Wells School of Music professors who double as inspiring educators and active performing artists. Please visit the Wells School of Music website for faculty biographies. Faculty recitals will take place throughout the week.

Looking for an opportunity to grow as an aspiring jazz musician?

Whether students are beginners or advanced musicians, they can develop their jazz skills this summer at the West Chester University Jazz Camp. In addition to performing in ensembles, participants will explore the art of jazz improvisation, jazz styles, harmony and arranging, music technology, and jazz history.

- State-of-the-Art Wells School of Music facilities!
- Evening activities and concerts!
- Check our website for complete faculty listings and visiting artists.
