Consolidation and Change of Graduate Application Fees

A study was recently conducted of the fees that are paid by prospective graduate students by the Graduate School. The Graduate School found that West Chester University currently charges a $10.00 application fee at the time of formal application. Later, when the student applies for degree candidacy, another fee of $20.00 is charged.

The other Universities in SSHE were canvassed regarding their graduate application fee practices. All other SSHE Universities charge a single fee ranging from $10.00 to $20.00.

The Graduate Office cannot determine the rationale for the current practice and feels that the collection of two fees results in duplication of effort as well as needless red tape for our graduate students.

As a result, it is recommended that at the time of formal application (i.e., submission of an application form), the applicant be assessed a single $20.00 graduate application fee.

This proposal will result in a $10.00 saving for graduate applicants but also will cut paper work costs. In 1988/89 the University collected $27,600 in graduate application fees. It is estimated that this proposed change will result in total collections of $23,200 or a loss of $4,400.

It is recommended that this fee be effective July 1, 1990.

Bernard Oldsey

Bernard Oldsey was a member of the English Department from 1969 - 1989. Throughout his association with the English Department his constant insistence on quality and excellence affected the course of department policy and development. He prompted the entire department to strive for excellence in hiring, writing, and teaching. Bernard Oldsey founded the journal College Literature and was editor of the journal from 1974 - 1989. He also published numerous books and journals.

Theodora West

Theodora West was a member of the English Department from 1963 - 1990. Dr. West has made a major contribution to scores of West Chester graduates presently in publishing. Her internship program led to entry-level positions for many students, some of whom have built distinguished careers in publishing, public relations, and other media. For over a decade she chaired the English Departments professional writing committee, spending many hours planning, raising funds and coordinating internships with professional sponsors.

Russell Rickert

Russell Rickert was a member of the Physics Department from 1956 - 1990. He was a valued and dedicated member of the West Chester University community. He has served on many campus and national committees, in addition to teaching and writing articles. He has chaired the Department of Physics, and also served as Dean of the School of Science and Mathematics. He has always been fair and open-minded and his wisdom and counsel have been sought by many over the years.

William Overlease

William Overlease was a member of the Biology Department from 1963 - 1986. His colleagues remember him as an unusually active partisan for melding education with community service, particularly in fostering increased awareness of the ecology of this region. He was a prime mover in the establishment of the Robert B. Gordon Natural Area, which today serves as the Biology Department's principal outdoor laboratory. He has published numerous articles, many of them concerning the flora of Chester County.
