THURSDAY, MAY 18, 2023 -VIRTUAL VIA ZOOM – 8:50 AM TO 12:30 PM Zoom Link will be Emailed to You
9:00 AM Dr. Bernard Bull Concordia University, Nebraska		The Power & Promise of Human-Centered Learning Environments In this presentation, Bernard Bull draws from two decades of applied research on learning experience design to offer a vision for the international creation of learning environments that foster deeply human phenomena like wonder, meaning, agency, compassion, connection, play, mastery, mystery, experimentation, and adventure.
10:15 AM Andrea MacArgel D2L Ltd Moderated by: Lauren Keefe West Chester University, West Chester, Pa		Accessing Course Data to Make Data-Driven Decisions in D2L This session will cover course data and reports available to instructors in D2L, including insights available within individual courses and across courses and semesters. Combined with other content access metrics, this data provides instructors with a more detailed picture of student engagement.
11:30 AM Dr. Sharla Berry California State University, Long Beach, CA		Teaching for Connection: Creating Online Communities for Diverse Learners A sense of community is a key factor in online students' engagement and retention. Diverse learners, including low-income students, students of color, students with disabilities, and students in caregiving roles experience community differently. In this session, Dr. Berry will outline what it means to create inclusive online course communities that support diverse learners. Topics to be explored include leveraging technology to promote peer interaction, connecting with students synchronously and asynchronously, and ensuring equitable participation in online courses.
