

Winter 2021-2022 Course Offerings

All winter 2021-2022 courses will be offered remote synchronously (meaning students will be required to attend classes remotely during specific days/times) or online (meaning students may be required to remotely attend some portion of the course during specific days/times with the remainder of the course being conducted asynchronously). Each winter course has a planned remote synchronous instruction percentage assigned visible within the Class Search and Class Schedule.

Overview of Potential Instruction Modes & Planned Remote Synchronous Percentages
