

Fall 2020 Class Schedule – Changes to Instruction Modes

The University recently announced plans to continue remote instruction for the Fall 2020 term. Since that announcement WCU faculty have been planning their fall course delivery to support student learning and engagement.

These delivery formats/instruction modes have been applied to fall classes. Students can find the delivery formats assigned to each of their courses on their class schedule in myWCU.

- From your myWCU homepage, look for the section titled My Schedule:
 - Click on the small triangle next to Fall 2020 to expand your fall class schedule.
 - Locate the new instruction mode within the schedule section for each course.

Understanding the New Instruction Modes

Remote Synchronous (RS)	Fully remote course that offers days/times for the instructor and students to “meet” virtually.
Remote Asynchronous (RA)	Fully remote course that does not require students to engage on specific days/times.
Online (OL)	Fully online course that did not experience any changes with the move to remote learning for the fall 2020 term.
Hybrid (HB)	Courses that offer some in-person engagement. Students enrolled in a hybrid course, have a Hybrid Class Selection section on their myWCU homepage where they may indicate their comfort engaging in-person
