

GSK Intern & Co-op Program

Are you looking to apply the skills you've learned at university and develop new ones?

Learn about our Internships and Co-op opportunities

GSK has contracted with ZeroChaos to manage the Intern and Co-op program. The Intern and Co-op program allow you the opportunity to apply the skills you have learned at university in a practical environment and learn new ones. Core skills include communication, planning, organization, problem solving, team-working and networking. We offer Internships and Co-op opportunities across the business and in variety of disciplines. Find out if you are eligible by reviewing the material below.

Information about the Internship and Co-op Program:

- Internships are paid, full-time summer opportunities; the duration of the Internships are generally 10–12 weeks with this summer's start dates in June 2013.
- Co-op assignments are paid, full-time work opportunities that can occur throughout the year depending on business needs. Co-op assignments are generally 4–12 months long with the average assignment being six months.
- Applicants to the Intern and Co-op program must have active student status and/or within 12 months of graduating from a degree program.
- All applicants must have minimally completed at least one year of college coursework.
- All applicants must have U.S. work authorization.
- Internships and Co-ops are located across GSK U.S. sites including: Delaware Valley sites (PA), Research Triangle Park sites (NC), Parsippany (NJ), Pittsburgh (PA) and participating GMS and Vaccines sites.
- Internship and Co-op opportunities are offered across our business divisions and across disciplines. We encourage students to apply to only those opportunities that are most aligned with the student's major, experience, background and interest.
- GSK does not provide housing or transportation subsidies for the Intern and Co-op program. All housing and transportation costs must be covered 100% by the student.
- Interns and Co-op students will be hired as ZeroChaos employees and assigned to GSK.
